

Steven N Gold, PhD is Professor Emeritus, Nova Southeastern University (NSU) College of Psychology, and was Founding Director of NSU's Trauma Resolution & Integration Program (TRIP). He was President of the American Psychological Association (APA) Division of Trauma Psychology (56) in 2009, inaugural editor of the Division's scientific journal, Psychological Trauma: Theory, Research, Practice and Policy, recipient of the Division's Award for Outstanding Service to the Field of Trauma Psychology in 2014 and of the Division's Lifetime Achievement Award in 2022. In 2004 Dr. Gold served as President of the International Society for the Study of Trauma and Dissociation (ISSTD); he received ISSTD's 2020 Cornelia B Wilbur Award for outstanding clinical contributions to the treatment of dissociative disorders and 2022 Lifetime Achievement Award. Gold has published and presented on abuse, trauma, dissociation, hypnotherapy and psychedelic-assisted therapy, and been an invited speaker on these topics throughout the United States and in Canada, Colombia, Argentina, Spain, Switzerland, and Austria. He is Editor in Chief of the APA Handbook of Trauma Psychology, a Co-Editor of the second edition of the book Dissociation and the Dissociative Disorders, and author of the books Contextual Trauma Therapy for Complex Traumatization and Not Trauma Alone. He is a Certified Traumatologist with the Traumatology Institute and on the Advisory Board of the Leadership Council on Child Abuse & Interpersonal Violence. Gold maintains an independent clinical and forensic psychology practice and is regularly retained as an expert witness in legal cases in which trauma and dissociation appear to be relevant issues.